

TEAM LEADERSHIP TRAINING AT NECEL

During the past year over 70 employees attended the Facilitative Leadership Seminar conducted by Curt McGee and Doug Lipp of Human Resources. The Facilitative Leadership model is used by 150 of the Fortune 500 Companies and offers leaders a powerful method for:

- enhancing teamwork through teamwork and commitment;
- promoting more successful and efficient problem solving;
- arriving at higher quality decisions;
- managing organizational change;
- building morale among group participants.

In 1990 several more sessions of Facilitative Leadership will be offered to employees holding a position of supervisor and above. We are intending to open the course to all employees as soon as possible. Our goal is to ensure that everyone at NECEL has the skills to effectively lead and participate in team problem solving activities.

Pictured above are the participants of the most recent seminar held November 28th - 30th.
