

Seating

The Most Valued Inch on the Airplane

Problem:

Those #!%#! armrest hogs who actually think it's a place to rest their arm!!

Solution:

If you sit down first, stake your claim immediately. If seated later, and the hog's arm (and usually half of his body) is draping over to your side, give one of these a shot:

- 1) Open up your newspaper (oh so casually)...spread it wide open, simultaneously brushing against his arm, or,
- 2) Lean over and adjust your under-seat luggage. When you sit back up, spread your shoulders and sit back with authority. If that doesn't work,
- 3) Sneeze on his arm.
